

INDEX TO LEDGERS by name of account-holder.

Quotation-marks give the form of entry in the ledger, with variations and additions in parentheses. Most names have been fairly certainly identified; when this has been done the source of biographical information is given in square brackets. (Appendix C defines the abbreviations used.)

In general, the ledgers have not been examined internally except when the account-holder was difficult to identify; but a few internal names do appear in this index.

KEY to first digit in entry:

2.	July	1831-	Aug	1833	MS B128
3.	1 Jan	1833-	Jun	1840	MS B129
4.	1 Sept	1835-	Aug	1840	MS B130
5.	26 Dec	1840-25	Dec	1844	MS B131
6.	25 Dec	1844-	Apr	1854	MS B132
7.	1 Jan	1853-		1865	MS B133

Second digit is "folio" number (except for MS B128, which is paged).

- Ansted, David Thomas, 1814-1880. Geologist. [DNB]
 "Prof Anstead, Geol. Society"
 6:43 (shows layout of blocks).

"Branston".

[DNB shows AR Branston "generally called Robert", 1778-1827, as a wood-engraver; PO shows FW Branston, wood-engraver, Paternoster Row, and RE Branston, wood-engraver, St Andrews Hill. JSBN 494: R. Branston engraved JDCS's drawings in 1829. See also Vizetelly (below), partners with "Branston" 1835-38. Dictionaries of artists tend to confuse Robert d. 1827 with his engraver son, who is apparently also Robert.]

7:36-38. (1854: plant drawings; pp 1414-1553.) See Longmans below: probably Loudon's Encyclopaedia of Plants -- 1st ed "drawings by JDC Sowerby, and the engravings by R.Branston", Longmans, 1829, 1159p; New ed, Longmans, 1855, 1574p [PNUC].

 "Sir HT De la Beche, Jermyn St"
 7:40. (1853)
- Dixon, Frederick, 1799-1849. Geologist. [PNUC]
 "Fred Dixon, Esq, Worthing"
 These accounts (of a Sussex geologist) extend to Dec 1851, but despite the anomalous death-date the identification is still very probable. The accounts were paid by a cheque from Richard Owen. OCLC gives two identical editions of Dixon's 1850 "The geology and fossils... of Sussex" (which contains material by James De Carle Sowerby and Richard Owen); one by "Frederic Dixon" and printed by Taylor; one by "Frederick Dixon" and printed by Longmans. (Not "the late" as in the 1878 ed.) See also BMNH Dixon, Frederic, 1799-1849 (of Worthing): should have been published in 1850 (imprint date) "but its author died when it was only two-thirds printed"; finally pub'd 1852, ed. by R. Owen.
 5:36, 44. 6:8, 10.
- Duckett, John, Esq, Sec., 50 Wellclose Square (1842). See Microscopical Society.
- Dukinfield, Henry Robert, Rev. Sir, 1791-1858, 7th bart. [succ. 1836] [Boase I]
 "Miss Dukinfield at Mrs Blackwood 11 Langham Place" is crossed out and replaced by "Mrs Pritchard Smith, Rev H Duckinfield, 6 St Martins Place". (She buys Botany, partly paid for by Mrs Murchison.)
 3:2. (1833-1840)
 "Miss Warde [corrected to] Mrs Walter Mildmays //along with Miss Dukinfield 6 St Martins Place"
 [Kitty-Anne Warde, H.R. Dukinfield's cousin, m. the Rev. Walter St. John-Mildmay in 1834. Dukinfield apparently had no sisters; his brother d. unmarried, and Dukinfield did not marry until 1836. So the identity of "Miss Dukinfield" is in question. See Appendix A for some details.]
 3:3. (1833-1840)
 "Mrs Pritchard Smith // Rev Sir H Duckinfield, 6 St Martins Pl."
 5:6. (1840-1844) [1840 "Mrs Walter Mildmays" is crossed out.]

 6:9. 7:5. (1845-1853)
- Edwards, Joshua C., [fl. 1831]. Painter and engraver. [JSBN]
 "Josh (J.C.) Edwards"
 2:13-14, 43-44, 55-56. 3:32. (1831-1832)
- Edwards, Thomas, fl. 1800-1840. Botanist. [ID uncertain] [Desmond]
 "Thos Edwards, Esq"
 2:27. 3:28. (1831-37)
 "Thos Edwards, Esq, Circus Pl"
 5:7. [blank except for address]
- Edwards, William. Cabinet-maker (and naturalist).
 "Mr W Edwards, (13 Earl St, Westminster)"
 3:17 (1832-35), 3:34 (no address).
 "Mr W (Wm) Edwards, (40 High St) Camden Town" [PO: "cabinet-maker"]
 4:8, 27, 32. 5:40. 6:11. (1835-1846)
 [Edwards stuffs specimens, supplies cabinets, window-sashes, etc, repairs furniture, and pays cash; in return for fascicles and fossils.]

TAYLORS OF RED LION COURT

- Richard Taylor (1781-1858) was a printer and naturalist. In 1803 he started a printing-house with his father John (1750-1826) and later moved to Red Lion Court. Between 1837 and 1851 he and his nephew John Edward Taylor were partners; in 1852 he took Dr William Francis as his partner, and then retired; the firm was then known as "Taylor and Francis". The firm began printing for the Linnean Society in 1807. [DNB]

ACCOUNTS WITH SCIENTIFIC SOCIETIES

Camden L & S Institution

Not identified. Presumably "Camden Literary and Scientific Institution", and presumably in Camden Town, London. Sowerby is finding supplies for them; shelves (from Edwards), a cabinet, magazines, books, Lardner, letters of thanks, 50 members' cards, paper for plants, lamp cottons. Can hardly be the "Camden Society" (founded 1834, but devoted to publishing historical and literary texts). Note that the Highgate Literary and Scientific Institution was founded in 1838.

APPENDICES

APPENDIX A.

Dukinfield -- St-John-Mildmay -- Warde -- Guilford -- Smith relationships.

John Warde, 1721-1775, of Squerries (Kent), begat John, Charles, George, Henry, and Catherine. John the younger died childless.

Charles (1754-1820) m. 1784, and had several sons and a daughter, Kitty-Anne, who m. the Rev Walter St John Mildmay in 1834 (one of the 11 sons of Henry Paulet St. John, 1764-1808, 3rd bart.).

Catherine m. Nathaniel Dukinfield in 1782. Apparently the Dukinfields had no daughters. Their eldest son d. unmarried in 1836; their second son (Henry Robert above) did not marry until 1836. So "Miss Dukinfield" later "Mrs Pritchard Smith" appears not to be a close relative of Henry Robert's (unless she was illegitimate).

Henry (1766-1834) had many sons, and a daughter, Harriett, who m. Francis North, 6th earl of Guilford, in 1826. (He d. in 1861, she m. a Mr Elliot in 1863, and d. in 1874 aged 69. Among her children was Lady Harriet North, who m. in 1862 her second cousin George Warde, grandson of George above.) [Based on Cokayne's Peerage, and his Baronetage, and Burke's Landed Gentry, 1863.]

Thus Kitty-Anne Mildmay, Harriet(t) countess of Guilford, and Henry Robert Dukinfield were all first cousins. Note also that Mrs Murchison turns up in several of these accounts -- perhaps indicating female friends pursuing science as a group.

APPENDIX B.

Shaw-Lefevre family.

In 1789 Charles Shaw (d. 1823) m. Helena Lefevre (d. 1834), and assumed the name of Shaw-Lefevre, which presumably only exists in this line. He had 3 sons: Charles (1794-1888); John George (1797-1879); Henry Francis (1802-1880).

Charles m. Emma Laura Whitbread (1798-1857) in 1817; he was created Viscount Eversley in 1857, and d. without heirs male (one of his daughters, Helena, m. Henry 5th bart. St. John-Mildmay in 1851).

John m. Rachel Emily Wright (d. 1885) in 1824; he was made KCB in 1857. He had one son, George John (1831-1928), who m. in 1874 and was created Baron Eversley in 1906.

Henry m. (1) Helen Le Marchant (d. 1832) in 1827; (2) Elizabeth Emma Foster (d. 1842) in 1835. [Sources: New Extinct Peerage, 1922; DNB]

Therefore the following could have been called "Mrs Shaw-Lefevre" before 1854:

Helena: 1789-1834.

Emma: 1817-1857.

Rachel: 1824-1857.

Helen: 1827-1832.

Elizabeth: 1835-1842.

If the account pertains to a single person from 1834 to 1854, only Emma and Rachel are candidates, since only they were alive in 1854. In 1849 71 Eaton Square was inhabited by Charles (and presumably by Emma) [PO].
